Singing is Good For You!

We always knew - but now we know why ...

Singing is an aerobic activity - when we sing we draw more oxygen into the bloodstream which improves circulation.

Controlled and deep breathing is shown to increase blood flow and increase the release of endorphins which are 'feel good' hormones associated with pleasure.

A study of a choir in Frankfurt also showed the physical activity of singing enhanced the production of antibodies within the immune system.

Singing triggers the release of the hormone Oxytocin, which is known to increase a feeling of trust, bonding, friendship and 'togetherness' which makes us feel safe and calm as we partake in a group activity.

Singing also enhances the release of Dopamine which research now shows is linked to a feeling of pleasure and happiness.

"I sing with more confidence, experience a higher level of achievement and enjoyment by preparing in advance and ensuring I know every note perfectly"

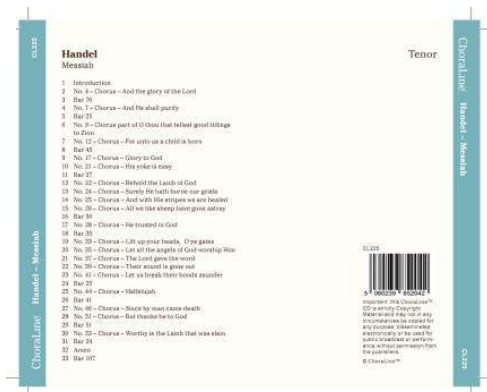

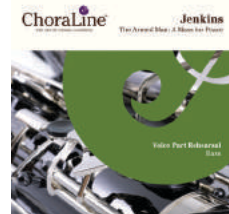

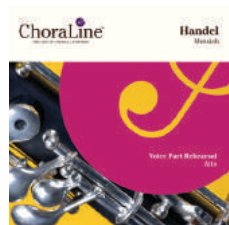

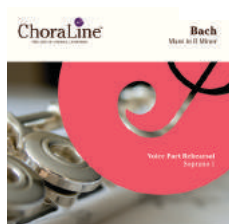

ChoraLine Rehearsal Recordings are learning tools, specifically created to help choral singers memorise their vocal line and practise between choir rehearsals

- ✓ ChoraLine highlights your part clearly and prominently
- ✓ Rehearse in time with the music and learn your notes at your own pace
- ✓ A voice-over guides you throughout the piece with 'verbal signposts' (bar numbers and rehearsal letters) to ensure you don't get lost
- ✓ A track listing on the back of the CD cover (and within the MP3 zip file) shows all the bar numbers so you can skip straight to a particularly challenging section
- ✓ Use as a pitch cue for your vocal entry and practice hitting the notes until you are perfect
- ✓ Know your part in advance of rehearsal and

Diagram illustrating the components of the Rehearsal Score and its correlation with the CDs and DVD:

- Bar Numbers: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the number 31 on the musical staff.
- Narrator: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the text "And..." on the musical staff.
- Rehearsal Letters: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the letter "A" on the musical staff.
- Alto Notes: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the musical notes on the staff.
- Alto Words: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the lyrics "shall be re - veal'd, and the glo - ry, the glo - ry of the Lord shall be" below the staff.
- Track Number & Timeline: Indicated by a red arrow pointing to the text "Track 2" and "0:57" on the left side of the staff.

The diagram shows a musical staff with the lyrics "shall be re - veal'd, and the glo - ry, the glo - ry of the Lord shall be" written below it. The staff includes a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a time signature of 4/4. The lyrics are aligned with the notes on the staff. The word "And..." is written in red above the staff, and the letter "A" is written in red above the staff. The word "f" is written in black above the staff. The word "And..." is written in red above the staff. The word "A" is written in red above the staff. The word "f" is written in black above the staff. The word "And..." is written in red above the staff. The word "A" is written in red above the staff. The word "f" is written in black above the staff.

The Rehearsal Score exactly correlates with the CDs and displays the Narrator's guidance, bar numbers and rehearsal letters. The notes and words are very clearly presented making it much easier to learn to sing your part.
